

I AM A DORK

Jen

Mikey, if you step one foot in my room one more time, while my friends are here....YOU ARE TOAST!

Mikey

Ooh, I love toast!

Jen

(She snatches his magazine)

Ugh! That's it!

Mikey

Hey, give me my magazine back

Jen

(Popular science) You're such a dork

Mikey

I'm not a dork

Jen

Really, then why do you read magazines about science at 11 years old?

Mikey

Why does it matter to you?

Jen

Cuz I'm your sister and you are completely embarrassing! Why can't you be a normal brother who watches sports or likes girls?

Mikey

Hey, I like girls!

Jen

No you don't!

Mikey

They're interesting.

Jen

And sports?

Mikey

Does it look like I'm fit for sports?

(Stands up and holds his arms like a bird)

Jen

You have a point. Anyway, can you just try to be cool for me? Seriously, it's embarrassing when I bring my friends over and you are doing....uh...uh...dork stuff.

Mikey

I'm educating my mind and expanding my brain wave dimensions to a level of comprehension that creates a hypothesis vertical angle of complete understanding of the human mind.

Jen

Ugh, I give up! (Storming out of the room) Why don't you look at maxim magazine or...or...or a playboy like a normal brother!

Mikey

Playboy? Why would I wanna..... Yea walk away, you'll be glad when I save the world from some catastrophe or something. (to himself and looks at his science magazine) Playboy, please this is so much better, WHOA, look at the software on that robot.
